

14th Annual:International Police Executive Symposium

"URBANIZATION AND SECURITY"

APRIL 8-12, 2007

Papers are invited addressing:

- What are the critical security issues facing governments experiencing rapid urban growth?
- How are challenges to public safety addressed by urban law enforcement agencies relevant to: violent crimes, the potential for terrorist acts, international organized crimes, traffic control, public transportation security and protecting construction sites from theft and sabotage?
- What does the research indicate relevant to urban crime and public safety? Do viable models exist that have international applications? What are the theoretical bases of these models?
- Role of Private Security in urban public safety.
- Any other topics relevant to the theme.

Meals, accommodations, internal transportation and sightseeing tours will be provided gratis to all registered participants and registered guests. For further information, please visit www.ipes.info or contact IPES President and Editor-in-Chief, PPR, Dr. Dilip K. Das at dilipkd@aol.com
