DEPARTURES

PLEASE NOTE THE FOLLOWING:

- Completed papers should be sent to the Panel Chairs as well as the Program Chair before the 15th of July.
- Presenters are requested to bring Power Point Presentations.
- Every participant is urged to keep in mind that cultural events are considered as important as the academic program and we expect everyone to attend all activities. An important objective of IPES meetings is to encourage global networking, build professional relationships, and strengthen collaboration between police research and practice around the world.
- Participants are encouraged to explore the publication opportunities offered by IPES: Publication of their papers in Post-Conference publications, and contribution to the Series: Advances in Police Theory and Practice; Interviews with Global Leaders in Policing, Courts and Prisons; as well as IPES-CRC Press Co-Production Series. You are encouraged to contact the high-ranking police leaders attending IPES 2017 for interviews. Participants may explore opportunities to interview judges and correction leaders in various countries. Interview questionnaires are in the website, www.ipes.info.
- Police Practice and Research: An International Journal (PPR), affiliated with IPES, welcomes your contribution as authors, book reviewers, special issue editors, as well as reviewers of manuscripts.
- Participating Institutions and Agencies are requested to become annual Institutional Supporters which enables them to enjoy several benefits such as participation in the meetings at the United Nations.
- Participants are also requested to consider hosting future meetings of IPES in their countries in order to promote globalization and enrichment of policing as a profession dedicated to the service of humanity.

Thank you.
